Social Media Intern

Looking for an opportunity to hone your marketing and social media skills? Are you passionate about environmental action and spreading awareness? Are you interested in start-up culture and creating impact in an organization? If so, Coastal Risk Consulting is looking for hardworking, creative, passionate people like YOU to grow with our company!

Coastal Risk Consulting, LLC (CRC), is a SE Florida-based, geospatial data and analytics startup. CRC is the only provider of online, SaaS, comprehensive, coastal climate impact assessments to individuals, businesses and governments in the US and internationally. We began business in 2015 with three world-class scientists and university professors, who believed that cloud-based, climate impact risk analysis was required to help a billion coastal residents around the world get climate ready and storm safe. We are now an emerging major player in the climate adaptation tech and climate adaptation consulting industries. Coastal Risk is pioneering a new model for providing effective, relevant, and forward-thinking climate impact risk consulting for its clients.

Job Description:
We are looking for a part-time social media specialist to manage and grow all of Coastal Risk's social media accounts- including Facebook, Twitter, LinkedIn, and Instagram. Your job will be to post relevant industry news articles, press releases, and company advertisements daily. This position also entails creating a newsletter e-mail campaign to be sent out on a regular basis to subscribers. If you think you have a creative knack for making eye-catching, funny, and creative social media posts, this is the perfect job for you!

Minimum Required Qualifications:
- Enrolled in a university working towards BA/BS degree
- Degree in Business/Environmental Studies/Geography is a plus
- Must have experience working with Social Media
- Strong verbal, written, and interpersonal communication skills
- Must be well organized, highly motivated, and detail-oriented
- Ability to prioritize, work independently, and meet deadlines
- Passion for climate action, sustainability, and environmental studies is a plus

Location:
Coastal Risk Consulting is based in Plantation, FL

Availability:
Work can be done remotely after required onsite training. This is a non-paid position for internship course credit.
