COURSE POLICIES

LATE WORK POLICY

Late weekly work, late tests, and late papers will not be accepted, for any reason other than documented medical excuses. It is your responsibility to ensure that you leave yourself enough time to do the work. Do not ask to turn in late work at the end of the semester if you realize you are going to fail the course. The answer is no.

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY POLICY STATEMENT

Students at Florida Atlantic University should endeavor to maintain the highest ethical standards. Academic dishonesty is a serious breach of these ethical standards, because it interferes with the University mission to provide a high quality education in which no student enjoys an unfair advantage over any other. Academic dishonesty is also destructive to the university community, which is grounded in a system of mutual trust and places high value on personal integrity and individual responsibility. Harsh penalties are associated with academic dishonesty. For more information, see University Regulation 4.001

PLAGIARISM

Plagiarism is the deliberate use and appropriation of another's work without identifying the source and trying to pass off such work as one's own. Any student who fails to give full credit for ideas or materials taken from another has plagiarized. This includes all discussion board posts, journal entries, wikis, and other written and oral presentation assignments. Plagiarism is unacceptable in the University community. Academic work must be an original work of your own thought, research, or self-expression. When students borrow ideas, wording, or organization from another source, they must acknowledge that fact in an appropriate manner. If in doubt, cite your source. One instance of plagiarism will result in an automatic 0 on that assignment, with no possibility to make up that assignment grade. Further instances of plagiarism will result in course failure and being reported for academic dishonesty.

Plagiarism includes:

- Copying passages from a source that you did not write yourself without using quotation marks and including a citation
- Closely paraphrasing from a source that you did not write yourself (i.e. if you change a few words it is still plagiarism)
- Turning in work you have turned in for any course other than this one
- Paying someone to write a paper for you
- Paying someone to “help” you write a paper and you don’t actually write it yourself
- Collaborating with other students on the test (this includes sharing “study guides”)
- Asking internet forums for answers to questions and then copy and pasting those answers into work that you turn in

ONLINE ATTENDANCE POLICY

Since the course is online, you should also access the course at least three times per week (3x/week) to ensure you do not miss pertinent postings, messages, or announcements. It is imperative that you meet course deadlines and stay active in the class. If you are experiencing major illness, absences due to University duties, or other large-scale issues, contact the instructor immediately to formulate a resolution. Emergencies will be dealt with on an individual basis.

NETIQUETTE

Due to the casual communication common in the online environment, students are sometimes tempted to relax their grammar, spelling, and/or professionalism. Please remember that you are adults and professionals and that your communication should match these roles. For more in-depth information, please see the FAU statement on netiquette. Please also see this helpful guide, Etiquette Tips for Emailing Your Professor.

CLASSROOM ETIQUETTE/DISRUPTIVE BEHAVIOR POLICY STATEMENT

Disruptive behavior is defined in the FAU Student Code of Conduct as “... activities which interfere with the educational mission within classroom.” Students who disrupt the educational experiences of other students and/or the instructor’s course objectives in a face-to-face or online course are subject to disciplinary action. Such behavior impedes students’ ability to learn or an instructor’s ability to teach. Disruptive behavior may include, but is not limited to non-approved use of electronic devices (including cellular telephones); cursing or shouting at others in such a way as to be disruptive; or, other violations of an instructor’s expectations for classroom conduct.

For more information, please see the FAU Office of Student Conduct.

INCOMPLETE GRADE POLICY

University policy states that a student who is passing a course, but has not completed all work due to exceptional circumstances, may, with consent of the instructor, temporarily receive a grade of incomplete (“I”). The assignment of the “I” grade is at the discretion of the instructor, but is allowed only if the student is passing the course.

TIME COMMITMENT PER CREDIT HOUR

This course has three credit hours. For traditionally delivered courses, not less than one (1) hour of classroom or direct faculty instruction each week is expected for fifteen (15) weeks per Fall or Spring semester, and a minimum of two (2) hours of out-of-class student work for each credit hour. Equivalent time and effort is required for Summer Semesters, which usually have a shortened timeframe. Fully Online courses, hybrid, shortened, intensive format courses, and other non-traditional modes of delivery will demonstrate equivalent time and effort.
