

2025 Summer Internship Program Information

Gain exposure to drug discovery and development in the pharmaceutical industry with a 12-week paid summer internship with J&J Innovative Medicine's Oncology and Immunology therapeutic areas.

When: Mid-May to Mid-August

Work Setting: On-Site or Hybrid

Location: PA, NJ, CA, MA

Qualifications:

- Legally/permanently authorized to work in the US/no required sponsorships
- Currently enrolled in an accredited University program throughout internship.
- Undergraduate students with completion of a minimum of four semesters
- Currently enrolled in biology, cell/molecular biology, chemistry, pre-med, nursing program, public health, biochemistry, health equity/disparity, oncology, immunology, neuroscience, pharmacology, computational biology, precision medicine, or similar areas of study
- Graduate students must be pursuing a Master's, PharmD or PhD degree
- Minimum cumulative GPA of 3.0 which is reflective of all college coursework
- Enthusiastic, collaborative, able to build relationships and work within global matrixed and cross-functional teams
- Self motivated, future scientist leaders passionate about drug development and clinical research
- Great interpersonal, verbal and written communication and presentation skills
- Good presentation skills; leading presentations with peers, project and senior leadership teams
- Proven leadership with campus and/or service programs is desired

Key Activities:

- 12-Week Paid Full-Time Internship (40 Hours/Week)
- 10-week "Bench to Beside" Lecture Series
- Challenging and Engaging Projects in Clinical, Discovery, Translational Research, Clinical PK, Global Medical Safety, and other functional areas
- Intern-Led Research Symposium
- Project Presentations
- Leadership & Networking Opportunities
- Team Building, Coffee Chats
- One-on-One Mentorship
- One-on-One Senior Leadership Engagement
- Supplied Laptop
- Housing Stipend Available (if eligible)

Scan QR Code
Below if Interested

Contact Internship Program
Team at:

oncoimmunointernshipprogram@its.jnj.com

Johnson & Johnson